SUPPLEMENTAL DECLARATION UNDER 37 CFR § 1.132

Larry L. Wood declares as follows:

- 1) That he is a citizen of the State of Ohio, having an address at 932 Highland Street, Columbus, Ohio 43201;
- 2) That he is an inventor named in the above-identified application for United States patent;
- 3) That he submitted a declaration under 37 CFR § 1.132 dated July 10, 2003 in connection with the above-identified application for United States patent, which declaration is hereby affirmed with the exception of paragraph 14 as it pertains to covers and is incorporated herein by reference;
- 4) That he has been advised that the claims of the above-identified application for U. S. patent have been rejected under § 103 of the Patent Statute, the Examiner citing Pool, U. S. Patent No. 2,638,636 (Pool) in view of Feleppa, U. S. Patent No. 5,700,102 (Feleppa) and Thornton, U. S. Patent No. 3,673,720 (Thornton) and Reilley et al., U. S. Patent No. 5,120,941 (Reilley et al.) and additionally in an Office Action mailed October 24, 2003, Glass, U. S. Patent No. 6,148,551 (Glass), Howes, Jr., U. S. Patent No 3,982,758 (Howes, Jr.), Flea Market Slide Show, and Duarte;
- 5) Glass describes a trailer transported inflatable balloon the side surface of which employs a Velcro attachment scheme to display a large Nylon banner-shaped sign with plastic letters;

- 6) That he has been advised that the Examiner has combined Glass with Feleppa to show Nylon flags or pennants supported on poles;
- 7) That Glass does not so much as remotely resemble a flag or pennant and does not suggest the use of Nylon with pennants;
- 8) That the function of the pennant-shaped Nylon flags in the instant invention is to derive a sight stimulator leading the customers sight line to the merchandise signage extending below the flags;
- 9) That there is no hint of such a function in the combination of Feleppa with Glass ;
- 10) That Glass does not remotely suggest the technique for displaying signage as taught by the above-identified application for United States patent;
- 11) That he has examined a complete printout of the San Jose Flea Market, Inc. website of which the Examiner only supplied a sheet 2 or 2 indicating at page 5 of the Office Action that the reference shows a canopy covering a market place to provide shelter and further commenting that it is well known in the art for covering an outdoor cashier area;
- 12) That the Examiner appears to have withheld illustrations from the same website showing that the so called canopy was located within a permanent building and not in the open air;
- 13) That the entire website as annexed hereto as Exhibit B clearly shows that permanent buildings were employed as indicated at sheet 10 of 10 and in the rental information provided with respect to the buildings;
- 14) That the only merchandising venue described in the reference is at sheet 6 of 10 which is a photograph of a permanent building interior;
- 15) That the Flea Market, Inc. of San Jose California is a permanent installation with a separate parking lot as represented in Exhibit B, a concept which militates against the concept of the instant invention of providing a seasonal parking lot venue for retailing merchandise;
- 16) That at page 14 of the Office Action the Examiner has indicated that Duarte teaches the fastening of signage to poles with connectors at the top of the poles;
- 17) That Duarte is a website for the City of Duarte, California and merely describes a banner with mandated dimensions representing an elongate tube of square cross section with indication that "cable snaps" are to be installed along the length of the banner;
- 18) That the Duarte reference provides no indication whatsoever as to the structure intended;

- 19) That at page 16 of the Office Action the Examiner has indicated that the "cable snaps" described in Duarte may be of a breakaway variety;
- 20) That contrary to the Examiners implications, the city regulation calls for wind pockets, a requirement which teaches away from breakaway connectors;
- 21) That it is his considered opinion that the references, taken singly or in combination fail to suggest the merchandising system and method as described and claimed in the above-identified application for United States patent;
- 22) That all statements made herein of his own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true, and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like, so made, are punishable by fine, or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any document resulting therefrom.

Further Declarant sayeth naught.

COMMISSIONER OF PATENTS AND TRADEMARK

DECLARATION UNDER 37 CFR § 1.132

Larry L. Wood declares as follows:

- 1) That he is a citizen of the State of Ohio, having an address at 932 Highland Street, Columbus, Ohio 43201;
- 2) That he is an inventor named in the above-identified application for United States patent;
- 3) That his resume is annexed hereto as Exhibit A;
- 4) That he has been advised that the claims of the above-identified application for U. S. patent have been rejected under Section 103 of the Patent Statute, the Examiner citing Pool, U. S. Patent No. 2,638,636 (Pool) in view of Feleppa, U. S. Patent No. 5,700,102 (Feleppa) and Thornton, U. S. Patent No. 3,673,720 (Thornton) and Reilley et al., U. S. Patent No. 5,120,941 (Reilley et al.);
- 5) That the present invention is directed to an outdoor retail merchandising technique wherein the otherwise poor environment of a retail parking lot is practically and seasonally converted into a merchandising region which is pleasant and accommodating to customers;
- 6) That Pool teaches against the concept of the present invention with showcases distributed along a roadway and the representation of a parking lot which is not used for any retailing purposes;
- 7) That he has been advised that the Examiner has asserted that it would have been obvious to modify Pool to show interconnecting the pole tops with horizontally disposed signage support to define a three-dimensional retail region for a select number of merchandising bays extending adjacent the pole from at least a portion of the geometric boundary to the shopper aisle;

- 8) That the Examiner is incorrect in that assertion in that none of the references show an interconnection of pole tops with horizontally disposed signage supports to define a three-dimensional retailing region with a select number of merchandising bays extending between adjacent poles from at least a portion of the geometric boundary to a shopper aisle;
- 9) That the only sign-based pole interconnection shown in any of the references is a connection of two poles to support a slidable sign as shown in Thornton;
- 10) That Thornton does not show nor possibly suggest the interconnection defining a three-dimensional retail region;
- 11) That he has been advised that the Examiner has asserted that it would have been obvious to modify Pool to show flags being supported on a pole because having flags on poles would attract people's attention to the installation and thus enhance sales of product as taught by Feleppa;
- 12) That the Examiner is incorrect in that the purpose of the flags is to attract the customer's eyes to overhead signage as opposed to merchandise;
- 13) That he has been advised that in rejecting claim 8, the Examiner has asserted that it would have been obvious to modify Pool's modified structure to show a plurality of covers each being extensible over an anchor sleeve adjacent the surface;
- 14) That none of the references, taken singly or in combination, show or suggest the use of covers or associated anchor pattern geometries as claimed;
- 15) That he has been advised that in rejecting claim 10, the Examiner has asserted that it would have been obvious to modify Pool's modified structure to show a tension cable assembly;
- 16) That none of the references show or suggest, such a signage support which is readily erected by store personnel;
- 17) That he has been advised that in rejecting claim 11 the Examiner has asserted that it would have been obvious to modify Pool's modified structure to show a horizontally disposed lower signage support;
- 18) That none of the references show or suggest, either singly or in combination, a lower signage support connected between poles and with the lower border of an overhead sign;

- 19) That none of the references show or suggest a plurality of poles extending within select anchor sleeves in freely abutable contact with a sleeve engagement surface, there being no sleeve engagement surface shown or described anywhere in the references;
- 20) That he has been advised that the Examiner has asserted that it would have been obvious to modify Pool to show a retainer connection assembly affixed to each of the first poles at a location defining a bay access elevation above the surface when the poles are inserted in the sleeves;
- 21) That none of the references taken singly or in combination, show or suggest a retainer connection assembly as taught in the above-identified application;
- 22) That none of the references teach the presence of a bay access elevation;
- 23) That none of the references show or suggest lower retainer assemblies which are removably coupled between retainer connector assemblies as claimed and described in the application;
- 24) That none of the references teach or suggest the utilization of lower couplers as shown, for example, at 368 and 370 in Fig. 10;
- 25) That none of the references, taken singly or in combination show the utilization of cables and connector assemblies functioning to support overhead signage;
- 26) That none of the references taken singly or in combination show the use of breakaway couplers at a lower sign support;
- 27) That all statements made herein of his own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true, and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like, so made, are punishable by fine, or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any document resulting therefrom.

Welcome To The

SAN JOSE FLEA MARKET

CELEBRATING Our 42nd ANNIVERSARY

Welcome to a California Tradition

Founded in 1960,

The Flea Market has grown into a small city with a life of its own. Come and explore our more than 8 miles of colorful alleys and treasure-laden corridors. Shop from over 2000 sellers. You'll find an enormous variety of collectibles,... arts, crafts, comic books, belt buckles, jewelry, and more. You'll see a huge selection of fashion clothing, walking shoes, fine furniture, and tools-from bonsai pruning shears to power miters.

Enjoy freshly prepared International and California foods from 25 restaurants and dozens of snack carts. Savor the sizzling smoked goodness of our outdoor barbecues. You will be surrounded by music from all countries and in all styles...from authentic mariachis to acappella oldies. Younger visitors will enjoy an old fashioned carousel and 2 new play grounds, investigate the toy stores and conquer the cool depths of the arcade.

Discover spice shops, fish markets and delicatessens dotted throughout California's Largest farmers' market, "Produce Row."

It's a quarter-mile long, shaded marketplace packed with produce from around the world, as well as fruits and vegetables fresh from California farms.

Come this weekend to explore the entire Flea Market. Visit Wednesday for excellent midweek bargains. Come Thursday or Friday for the calmer pace of a neighborhood swap meet.

Flea Market History

Smack-dab in the heart of Silicon Valley, the global center of technological innovation, sits a bustling 120 acre land bastion of "no tech" business that host 80,000 visitors a week, more than 4 million people a year! Largest open-air market in the country, some say in the world. The popular San Jose Flea Market flourishes in apparent contradiction to Silicon Valley's high tech image. And yet, as the product of one man's entrepreneurial drive and passionate commitment to an innovative concept, the Flea Market represents the very essence of Silicon Valley.

In 1959, George Bumb had the seedling of an idea. He was in the solid waste, landfill business. He kept seeing all these wonderful things getting thrown away and felt there had to be a profitable way to sell them to people who would want them.

Hearing of the success of swap meets, which were just getting started in Los Angeles, Bumb traveled to Southern California and saw how the meets were organized and held at drive-in theater lots. Bumb took the swap meet approach and expanded it to encompass individual merchant stalls, with on-site product storage. That way the merchants could keep their product at the market during the week, even though the market sales at first were conducted on weekends only.

This granddaddy of U.S. flea markets opened its gates in March of 1960, with 20 sellers and about 100 curious customers on what was once an abandoned cattle feed lot. With $7,000 in Cash, Bumb started the Flea Market on farmland on Berryessa Road, then a narrow country lane surrounded by orchards.

It was a cautious beginning. The first office, staffed part-time by family members, housed the only restrooms and snack bar on the original 35 acres. The spartan menu offered homemade sandwiches, basic beverages, and some candy.

Today, The Flea Market averages more than 6,000 sellers each week and is home to 30 snack bars, street vendors, and sit down restaurants offering a delectable variety of international and American classic foods, plus more than 60 roving snack and beverage carts specially designed by the Bumb family.

From its initial handful of family members and part-time employees, The Flea Market has grown to encompass 500 service employees carefully trained and supervised by Ogden Entertainment Services, along with a direct Flea Market staff of 150 people who work in management, construction, food service, and maintenance.

The Flea Market property encompasses about 1,000 small buildings, 1,000 open-air stalls, and all sorts of amenities. One thing Bumb is fanatical about is having an adequate number of restrooms that are extremely clean and maintained.

The Flea Market is completely self sufficient, building everything here ourselves, we have generators, water pumps, sewage holding tanks, everything needed to sustain the market through a weekend if there's a failure of power, water, or sewer services.

And what draws the hordes of visitors Wednesday through Sunday all year long, from dawn to dusk? A better question might be what doesn't draw them. At this flea market, you can find anything from toys to tires. The Flea Market's quarter mile long produce row is the busiest outdoor produce market in California and features produce from local farms and around the world.
